

« Nat Russell tees at Mollusk | Main | Obama prefers Hope »

June 17, 2008

Giveaway--blue charmeuse dress by Lisa Michelle Collection

You've been cruising the waves on your long board all day in your eco-friendly Patagonia wetsuit, but that doesn't mean you don't know how to dress it up after sunset. Surf sirens—and their landlubbing counterparts—would do well to invest in a playful number from the newly-launched Lisa Michelle Collection.

The brainchild of L.A.-based up-and-comer Lisa Felsenthal (who has designed for Rozae Nichols and Monique Lhuillier, and who interned for Michelle Mason and Jeremy Scott while training) the flirty, feminine line features light, beautiful European fabrics and trims, perfect for the urban sophisticate who doesn't take herself too seriously.

We have a blue silk charmeuse Lisa Michelle Collection evening dress (retail value $650) to give away to one Stylephile reader (we can accommodate most regular sizes). To win, simply tell us this: what's going to be your style essential this summer? Leave your answers in the comments section of this post. Deadline is 5PM, Monday June 23rd.

June 17, 2008 in FASHION | Permalink

About

The Stylephile is a potent cocktail of sweet and sour musings on the culture of keeping up appearances. Style should never be a humorless pursuit. Let style editor Caroline Ryder entertain you.

Recent Posts

Variety's auction for St Jude hospital

Stella McCartney and Ed Ruscha talk shop on TV

Teenage riot: Taryn Manning's Born Uniqorn sale

Un-sensible scent: Homage Attar by Amouage

Gwyneth Paltrow's GOOPy banana pancakes